

Rights Respecting Schools Action Plan 2018- 2019 Sixpenny Handley First School

Priorities: To continue to develop the role of a Rights Respecting ethos within the culture of our school.

Leaders: Rights Respecting Ambassadors and Rachael Hampshire

Purpose:

- To ensure that Rights remain at the centre of our school community and day to day running
- To continue to educate and develop the understanding of all the children, parents, staff and the wider community in our rights respecting work
- To focus on the involvement of the community in our rights respecting journey, through parental involvement
- To ensure that staff remain vigilant about opportunities for explicit work on rights within the curriculum in order to broaden the understanding and deepen the knowledge of all children
- To participate in regular events such as Fairtrade Fortnight, Soccer Aid etc. in order for children to work with others across the world towards a shared goal.
- To continue to validate our Fairtrade status as a school
- To strive to encourage the ambassadors and wider school community to understand the importance of team work, responsibility and effort in order to reach a goal, for example, shared fundraising for improvements in our school.
- To develop the strength of our link between Jigsaw and RRS
- To develop an effective link with the wider world through a shared understanding and celebration of difference

Nearly all pupils interviewed report that they have had opportunities to take action to uphold the rights of children locally, nationally and globally.

Some of the staff interviewed were very clear on the importance of their role in ensuring that global citizenship in the curriculum makes provision for challenging stereotypes and extending the understanding of interdependence.

Pupil voice has an exceptionally high profile in school, and there is a commitment to an extensive range of opportunities to engage in learning.

The school is looking to ensure all pupils feel confident to stand for election. More vulnerable or 'quiet' pupils are supported in getting their voice heard through personalised approaches.
(RRS Level 2 Report, June 2011)

Behaviour in lessons is good. Pupils treat each other with respect and look after each other well. Pupils' good behaviour contributes to a calm and purposeful atmosphere.

Pupils' cultural development is promoted well across a range of interesting lessons and has improved since the last inspection.

(Ofsted Report, November 2014)

Intended impact for pupils:

- All pupils, staff, governors and wider community will share in and contribute to the rights respecting culture of our school.
- Children will be given every opportunity to develop their understanding of the wider world and respect for others through curriculum opportunities, planned whole school events and everyday life including assemblies, displays and shared behaviours.

Intended impact for parents:

- Parents will be able to share in our celebration of rights and join in with whole school events throughout the year.
- Parents will help to develop and show respect for the whole school charter and the behaviours we encourage at Sixpenny Handley.
- Parents will have a shared understanding and therefore be able to support their children throughout their rights respecting journey at school.

Target group:

All children, parents, staff, governors and wider community members.
